Hydro Leader Features ViewTech Borescopes

"Michigan-based ViewTech Borescopes is a leader in remote visual inspection. Its borescopes have a manipulatable probe and video technology that allows facility managers to create an archive of photos and videos to inform decisions about troubleshooting and preventive maintenance. In this interview, ViewTech's director of sales and marketing, Duncan White, tells us about the company's technology and its demo-before-you-buy sales philosophy." Read the article here.

A Cessna 172 Just Flew 18 Hours Nonstop from California to Hawaii

Imagine, if you will, the following scenario. You're on an 18-hour flight. Your seat doesn't recline. There is no in-flight entertainment. There is no in-flight service. The cabin is not pressurized. You can't go to the bathroom – because there isn't one. And you're the only passenger.

Oh...and you're the pilot, too.
